STUDENT LIFE

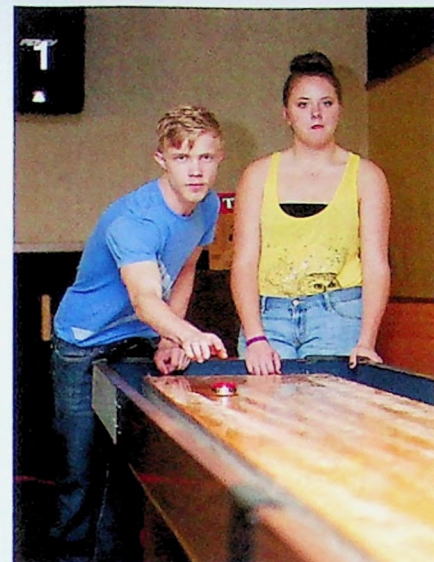

Joe Simon celebrates a strike.

Beginning of the year...a busy week full of excitement and maybe even a little anxiety. New students moving into Johnson and Kenoyer Hall and meeting new roommates and returning students reconnecting with friends. Welcome Week kicks off with everyone moving into the residence halls, meaning lots of trips up and down lots of stairs and unloading box after box. Once everyone is settled into their new 'homes' the Residence Hall Supervisors and the Resident Assistants welcome new students with an all dorm activity. The men of Johnson Hall continued the tradition of Stupid Olympics while the ladies of Kenoyer Hall searched all over campus for their Resident Assistants in a fierce game of hide and seek. Welcome Week also includes enrollment, the activities fair, NSO groups, bonfires, bowling, and worship night where we heard from Student Body President Ian Christensen. One of the most important and meaningful activities was the family celebration which included President Ingram encouraging the parents to pray for their children and the students to pray for their parents. It was a great way to start the year.

Ready for the all school worship service in City Park Holly Frost, Alyssa Strain, Chelsea Ast, Me'Shelle Parker, and Holly Atkinson grab a front row seat.

1. Christian Hall and Julia Neubert put on their game faces during an intense game of shuffle board.
2. Attempting to be the first to accomplish the milk gallon challenge, Tanner Woolf begins chugging.
3. Seth Dills shares a moment of prayer with his parents to start the year off well.
4. Alan Hamer and Will Eickman spend the day helping new students unload their belongings into Johnson Hall.
5. Collin Nitcher smiles as he strikes out a staff member in the annual softball ball.
6. Jordan Clark uses his gifts to lead people into worship.

President Kevin Ingram encourages the students and their parents during the family celebration in Jolliffe Hall.

Barn Party

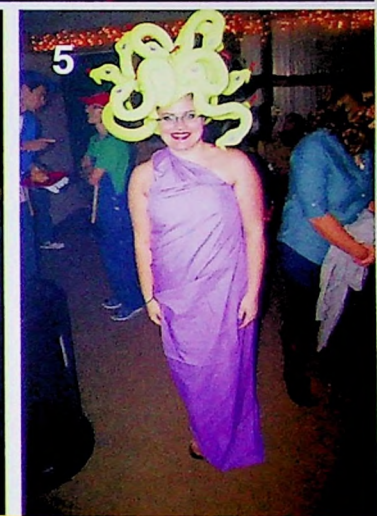

Christian Hall participates in one of the many dance offs.

The Barn Party was held at the Lazy T Ranch, an actual ranch outside of Manhattan that can be rented for many different purposes. This special fall night was complete with a camp fire, hayrack ride, and lots of music. Many dance-off competitions took place on the dance floor and Campus Program Council awarded several prizes for different costume groups. The Best Couple award went to: Christian and Amy Hallberg as Wonder Woman and Flash. Best individual was: Brady Field dressed as Mr. Rogers. There were two Best Group awarded handed out. The first group was: Collin Nitcher, Austin Lovelace, Matt Lundy, and Grant Foard as Mumford and Sons. The other group was: Mackenzie Matavosky, DeeDee Guthrie, and Leigh Ann Maurath as loofahs and soap. The Most Creative Award went to: Jayme Miller, Sagan Scates, Carrie Pilkington, and Amy Tippin as the Jamaican bob sled team.

Heyyy Macarena.

1. Even Dorothy's dog, Toto, a.k.a. Krysten Purkey, gets crazy at the Barn Party.
2. Worlds collide as Mr. Rogers, Brady Field, and Ms. Scarlett from the game Clue, Krystal Zawisza, meet up on the dance floor.
3. Cleaning up the dance floor is shower loofahs Mackenzie Matavosky, Leigh Ann Maurath, and DeeDee Guthrie.
4. Cruella Deville, Larry Olson, and her dalmatians...Kendall Reynolds, Morgan Bromell, and Holly Atkeson.
5. Emily Etcher is Medusa.
6. Christian and Amy Hallberg are Wonder Woman and The Flash.

Most Creative Award went to the Jamaican bob sled team Jayme Miller, Sagan Scates, Carrie Pilkington, and Amy Tippin.

Winter Banquet

Paige Mortensen mixes modern day electronics with a 1920's flair.

Winter Banquet went way back this year...all the way back to the 1920's. CPC transformed the Wareham Opera House into a swinging party. The ladies donned lots of pearls, headbands, and flapper dresses. The gentlemen were impressive in suits, suspenders, and hats. Attendees enjoyed a delicious dinner and dessert catered by Hy-Vee and, of course, plenty of music and dancing.

They may be dressed like the 1920's but they dance like it's 2014.

1. Suitemates Kaly Fitzgerald, Cortney Bobb, and Leah Barger, and Ashley Gillihan enjoy their time at Winter Banquet.
2. Robin Diehl and Logan Pittman can't wait to hit the dance floor.
3. While waiting in line for dinner, Holly Atkeson and Leah Barger share a hug.
4. Flappers Kaitlyn Black, Sarah Wenger, Paige Mortensen, and Bianca Bachman celebrate going back in time.
5. Korbin Schmidt and Eli Karst flap the night away.
6. Ben Grogg mustache you a question.

Ian Christensen is a little shocked at fiancée Ireland Spence's protruding belly. Katie Elder, Holly Atkeson, and Krysten Purkey dance on.

The student on the right is wearing a denim vest over a blue shirt and jeans. They are both smiling and laughing. The background shows kitchen shelves and equipment.

Skip Day

Even on Skip Day, Matt Saathoff and Evan Brandt are deep in conversation.

Surprise! It's Skip Day and MCC students are excused from all classes! The day is a secret but students know it is coming and they wait all semester for it. A day to relax, sleep in a little and enjoy food and games all day. The morning started with worship and a devotion from Ethan Pope around the bell tower. The tradition of flying pancakes for breakfast took place in the Campus Center. The rest of the day was spent relaxing and watching multiple basketball and sand volleyball games. Lauren Sanders and her amazing dining services staff provided a great dinner and plenty of ice cream desserts. After dinner students were invited to participate in the Sarah Wenger Annual Kickball game. The weather was perfect for making memories and taking advantage of every moment.

Amber Stetler and Sierra Scott jump for joy for skip day!

1. Ethan Pope begins skip day with a devotion.
2. Soccer star Brandon Branscom is also a talented sand volleyball player.
3. Grant Foard, Austin Lovelace, and Collin Nitcher start their day off right with worship.
4. These two lovelies, Sarah Wenger and Krysten Purkey, definitely needed a Skip Day.
5. Dr. Rick Wright is always looking after his soccer players. Ben Williams is no exception.
6. Josh McCrickard teaches Jordan Strom a few things on the slab.

Students, faculty, and staff come together for worship and prayer.

Spring Banquet

Josh McCrickard takes center stage at Spring Banquet.

The end of the school year is always busy with finishing schoolwork, planning for summer, and saying goodbye to friends. One of the highlights is Spring Banquet, a time to celebrate together and honor students who have made a difference during their time at MCC. This year CPC hosted the banquet at the Manhattan Country Club, a beautiful location that overlooks the city. The night was complete with a delicious dinner, yummy cupcakes, lots of dancing, and prestigious awards. The Student Life Department presents three annual awards to six deserving men and women voted on by the Faculty and Staff. These awards are the Young Crusader, Servant's Heart and the President's. The President's Award acknowledges outstanding Christian leadership on-campus at MCC, through various leadership roles and activities. The Young Crusader award winners have demonstrated outstanding Christian leadership in a ministry off-campus. Frank Nunez Servant's Heart award winners displayed a servant's heart in their daily lives and through their roles on and off-campus.

"KD: Community offered me an opportunity to give back to the community and show others the love of Christ, regardless of the task at hand." Tim Clark

For one week during the fall, the student body, faculty and staff are encouraged to participate in Kerusso Dayz: Community. KD: Community began in 2003 as a way to reach out to Manhattan and the surrounding area and serve in our local neighborhood. This year students were able to volunteer at Shepherd's Crossing, Life Choice Ministries, Hope Ranch, Boys and Girls Club, Big Brothers and Big Sisters, Bethlehem Revisited, Flint Hills Breadbasket and Restore of the Heartland.

'It was so cool to see God working through i6eight and everyone involved there. I enjoyed getting to build new relationships as well as continue some that were built last year. God is Amazing everywhere I go!' Ethan Hutchcraft

This year the Kerusso Dayz Spring Break trip traveled to Rocky Point, Mexico to work with i6eight. This was the second year in a row that MCC has worked with this mission to change lives in this area. During this years trip the students were able to reconnect with people they had previously met, build another house, visit a women's rehabilitation center, and visit the orphanage. This experience was truly blessed with fellowship, hard work, and growth in the Lord for both the MCC students and the locals they were able to work with. The biggest impact moment was when everyone gathered into the newly finished home to dedicate it. The family of 7 who was moving in wept as we sang songs, prayed, took communion, and gave them a Bible. MCC students helped to build not only a physical foundation for this family but spiritual foundation as well. They learned how truly loved and treasured they are with a new house as an outward physical expression of Christ's love for them.

Abby Baker does more than build a house, she builds a relationship.

1. Sam Field takes a break from house building to spend time with a local child.
2. Kim Bahr and Julia Hood work together to hold up tarp paper.
3. Sam Field helps frame the roof of the house they are building.
4. Lauren Wilson snuggles with a new friend.
5. Lindsay Bevan carries a young local around the neighborhood.
6. After the work is done, Cortney Bobb and Kaly Fitzgerald enjoy some ocean time.

Matt Saathoff, Brooks Sutton, Cortney Bobb, and Kim Bahr enjoy the waves in the Gulf of California.

Admissions

"Working in Admissions is wonderfully simple. I get to have a good time and invite other people to join the MCC community," shares Kaitlyn Black.

Always looking for young Christian leaders who want to make an impact on the world around them, the Admissions staff represents MCC in a variety of ways including campus visits, in Christian camps, at college fairs, in churches, and at special events across the United States. Two of the largest recruiting efforts are Oasis and Timothy Days. The Oasis Conference is a local event organized by a committee of area youth ministers and the Admissions staff which attracts 1,000+ middle school and high school students and encourages them in their spiritual walk. In addition, twice a year in the spring, Timothy Days a scholarship event for prospective students, occurs on campus and it is the Admissions staff and their student helpers who work to give everyone personal attention as well as answer their questions.

Student Development

"My favorite part of working in Student Development is that I get to be involved with activities on campus. It allows me to be a part of the other side of things," shares Paige Mortensen

The mission of the Student Development department is to support and promote what students learn in the classroom and transform it into daily living. The student development does this through various activities. Break Aways are a favorite for students, faculty and staff. Break aways and open dorms happened the first Friday of the month and provided lots of free food. World Series party, Christmas Open House, Super Bowl party, Final Four party are just a few of the events produced by the Student Development staff.

Besides the parties and free food, student development offers help to students who may be struggling with adjusting to college life with tutoring and study seminar.

Brady Field, Jaime Hass, Krystal Zawisza, Savanna Floyd and Adam Schmitz enjoy the free football food before the Superbowl begins.

1. Serg Sandy gets a special visit from Spiderman.
2. Paige Mortensen and Logan Pittman would rather snuggle than watch the Superbowl.

5. Gideon Battis is excited for Break Away and free snacks.
6. Jessie Pearson and Cortney Bobb love hanging out at Break Aways.

Wynnette Sommerfeld, Dively Quezada, Kendall Reynolds, Lindsay Bevan, and Kylie Rupe travelled as a small group to all the houses during the Faculty/Staff Christmas Open House.

Institutional Advancement

"Ambassadors was a really great growing opportunity for me!
I loved meeting all of the people where we visited and the pot lucks were always a plus!" Krysten Purkey

The Institutional Advancement office works hard to accurately tell the ongoing story of MCC to alumni, churches, businesses, and friends of the college. They focus on building relationships and growing resources that can be used to further the mission of educating, equipping, and enriching Christian leaders. Annual events include Leadership Breakfast, Golf Classic, Woman's World, and the Vision 360 Banquet. Church relationships are fostered with visits from the Ambassadors and the Drama Team. The MCC

NOW Campus Campaign and the MCC NOW Alumni Campaign are both short-term fund raising efforts to raise money for a particular campus project. This year, the Campus Campaign purchased four booths for extra seating on the Café side of the Campus Center and the Alumni Campaign finished the history room in Jolliffe Hall. The Vision 360 Banquet was new this year. It highlighted the past, present, and future of MCC and gave friends of the college a chance to celebrate what God is doing here.

Jim Coiner, Jolene Rupe, Larry Olson, Shawn Condra, Jordan Strom, and Rick Wright participate in the annual golf tournament.

Student Led Ministries

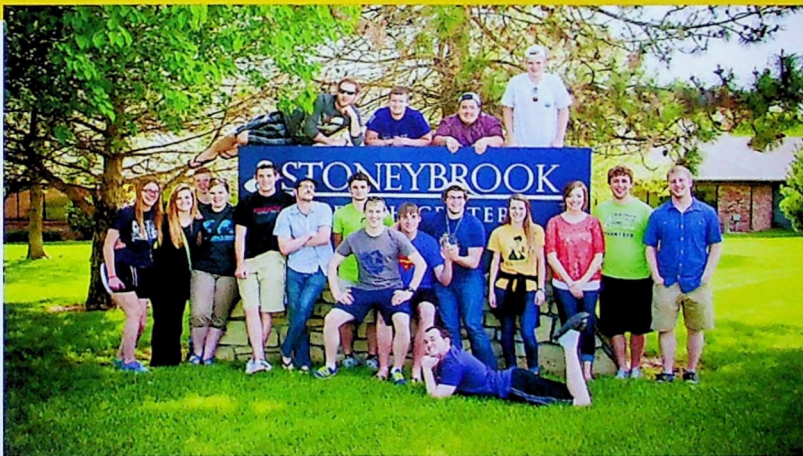

Josh McCrickard plays a homeless man in one of the drama team skits.

There are many activities or ministries to become involved with on campus. Students practice their leadership skills and become leaders of different ministries. Two of those ministries are Nursing Home and Drama Team. The Nursing Home team travels to Stoneybrook Retirement Center every week. The students play the piano, sing hymns with the residents, and lead a small devotion. After that they spend one-on-one time with the residents. They share stories and provide a listening ear to people who may not have many visitors. The Drama Team travels one weekend per month to churches to share the Good News of Jesus through drama. Josh McCrickard shares, "What started out as a chance to do something for Christian service turned into a chance to connect with friends, travel to each other's churches and eventually become like a family! We all connected after awhile and now everyone who was in drama troop became a drama family."

Jonathan Paden spends an afternoon reminiscing with a Stonybrook resident.

Spiritual Life

"It was incredible to be behind the scenes of the All-School Worship Nights and there's nothing like watching a community of believers coming together to worship the Lord," shares Joe Simon.

Life at Manhattan Christian College is full of fun and exciting times, but the most important goal for all of us is spiritual growth. The Student Spiritual Life Committee consisted of Paige Mortensen, Joe Simon, Lauren Stroud, and Will Eickman and everything they planned was to promote spiritual growth. This committee planned Praisin' with the Prez, mission trip support auction, Valentine's Day worship night, and several worship nights held throughout the year.

Re[de]fine was the theme for the school year.

1. Kaylee Wedell and Krysten Purkey's small group: Kaylee Wedell, Ashley Dulany, Susan Lewis, Kelsey Cook, Kim Bahr, Holly Atkeson, and Krysten Purkey.
2. Students gather to pray for students going to internships over the summer. Monica Reaser spent her summer in Africa.
3. Zane Kaehr and Kaitlyn Black auction off a craft night with Nita Prickett to raise money for summer mission trips.
4. Nicole Church partakes in communion during Praisn' with the Prez.
5. Students wait in anticipation for the next item up for grabs at the auction to support summer mission trips..

Chapel

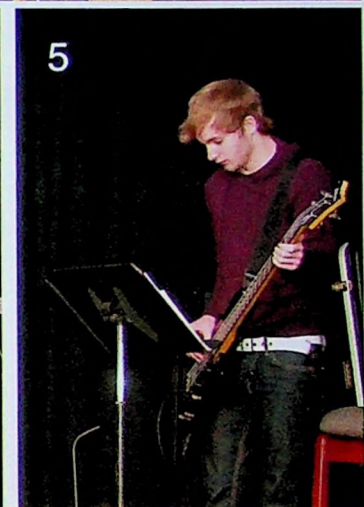

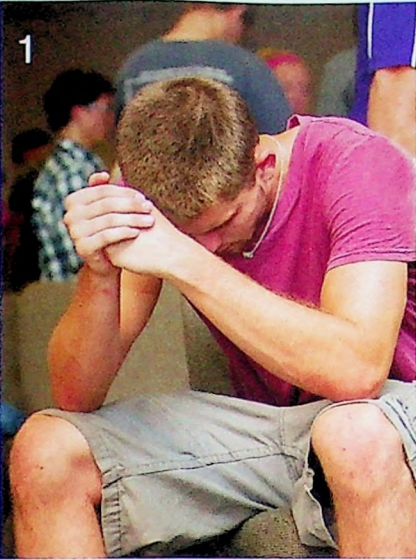

"My favorite part of leading worship is hearing my school's voices praise a God who is worthy to be praised." Robin Diehl

Throughout the week the campus is buzzing with the busyness of classes, homework, and work, but every Thursday at 11am the campus slows down and gathers in Jolliffe for some much needed worship and an encouraging message. Chapel is a time for all students, faculty and staff to join together and honor the One true God. The theme for the school year was 're[de]fine' and chapel speakers were encouraged to share their defining moments during the fall semester. In the Spring the speakers shared their refining moments. Ben Grogg said, 'Chapel is that one special time of the week where we as a campus come together and worship our Lord and Savior, as well as have the opportunity to learn collectively from God's Word.'

1. Jake Kottman starts out the year in prayer at Convocation.
2. Collin Nitcher prays for offering. The offering collected this year went towards Compassion Child, Kerusso Dayz, and Student Needs.
3. President Kevin Ingram prays for the start of the year.
4. Joel Ormord and Matt Lundy share their musical talent.
5. Trenton Pittman was a regular participant in a worship band.
6. Jack Mitchell was one of seven pastoral seniors who preached in chapel.

Dynae Whiteley praises the Lord.

Kenoyer Hall

'Being an RA in Kenoyer was such a blast. There was never a dull moment while living in the dorm. One of my favorite memories was "trying" to think of fun pranks to accomplish throughout the year with my suite.' Bianca Bachman

Life in Kenoyer Hall...lots of clothes, shoes, screaming, dancing but most importantly, godly girlfriends. Kenoyer Hall is where girls from all over the country move in as strangers and shortly after become the best of friends. "My favorite part about living in Kenoyer hall is the interaction you have with all the girls. There is something usually going on the dorms whether it is watching movies, or making a Walmart run or even just talking in the different suites," shares Sara Sites.

Johnson Hall

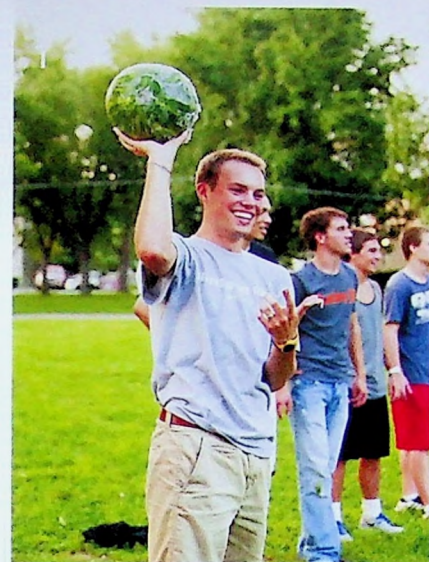

Brooks Sutton shares that his favorite Johnson Hall memory is staying up until 2a.m. to decorate my floor with Christmas decorations and immediately regretting it when I got up the next morning.

>> When the school year begins with cheering on your floor mates chugging a gallon of milk and wrestling over a greased watermelon, it's hard to imagine becoming any closer. But that is exactly what happens in Johnson Hall. The men of Johnson Hall start as friends but quickly turn into a brotherhood. There are lots of crazy events that take place within the dorm and all that craziness bonds the men even further. These men become a community of maturing Christian leaders that support each other academically, and most importantly spiritually. Residence Hall Supervisors, Larry and Bev Olson worked with these Resident Assistants: Adam Herbert, Cameron Dunn, Joe Simon, Derek Birney, Bryce Birtell, and Ben Hammack.

Academics

The library is a wonderful place to study, I love reading by the fire place in the winter," said Veronica Kerr

Students come to college for many reasons...some come very driven and know exactly what they want to do. Others need some time to figure out which path to pursue. Ultimately students are here to learn. Whether they chose to go into ministry or a secular profession, MCC's mission is to educate, equip, and enrich Christian leaders. The faculty at MCC stand behind this mission and provide the teaching and guidance that the students desire. "A great thing about the academic side of MCC is that all the professors want to see us succeed. Even if it isn't in ministry or a church vocation, they want to see us reach our goals and achieve our dreams that God has cultivated us for. One thing I have taken from my MCC classes is that people all have different skills and gifts and it's the way we combine them to work together to bring the most glory to God that counts," shares Kate Janes.

Camp Team

ATHLETICS

Teamwork led to Regional Champions!

With a team full of talented returning players and several experienced new players, the MCC volleyball team had an outstanding season finishing 32-7. For the second year in a row, they won the Conference Championship and Regional Championship by defeating one of their arch rivals Grace University. Going into the National Tournament they were seeded #4 and after battling through a bout of food poisoning they finished fourth in the Nation. Team captains Paige Mortensen and Kylie Rupe were named NCCAA Division II--1st Team All-Americans and Scholar Athletes as well as AVCA All-Americans; Carrie Pilkington was 2nd Team All-

American and Tiffany Willbanks was a Scholar Athlete. Rupe was also named AVCA National Player of the Year. At the regional level, Head Coach Lauren Sanders was named Regional Coach of the Year, Rupe was named MVP, Mortensen and Pilkington were 1st Team All Region, Tiffany Willbanks and Kenzie Denver were 2nd Team All Region. Closing out one of the best seasons in school history, a proud Coach Sanders shared, "The highlights of this season were winning Regionals against Grace at home and how the team overcame such adversity at National to still finish in the Final Four."

This year the men's soccer team captured the Midwest Christian College Conference Tournament Championship. The soccer team entered the tournament as the #3 seed. In their opening match they defeated Calvary Bible College, 7-0 and defeated Barclay College 5-1 in the semi-final round. In the Championship match on Saturday, MCC avenged their lone conference loss by defeating Ozark 2-1. Caleb Veer and Matthew Jump were named 1st Team All-Conference. Gustavo Ramirez, David Krigbaum, Brandon Branscom and Keaton Truesdell were named 2nd Team All-Conference and Samuel Heryford was named Honorable Mention All-Conference. The men's soccer team won their sixteenth consecutive Regional Championship by defeating Grace University 4-0. This streak of Regional Championships is the longest in the NCCAA II for any men's sport. Matthew Jump was named MVP of the Region, while Brandon Branscom, David Krigbaum and Caleb Veer were named 1st Team All-Region and Dr. Rick Wright was named Regional Coach of the Year.

Cross Country

"It's always a nice feeling getting done with a race but it was memorable when our team qualified for nationals. Roadtripping to Ohio was the biggest highlight. I loved getting to bond with everyone." Kori Zarzutski

From day one the MCC Cross Country team had a hard journey as they pursued their dream to place at NCCAA Division II Nationals. Over the course of four meets the team participated in, they worked to get the team average time under 35 minutes for the 8K(5 Miles). Captains Logan Possom and Ethan Pope led the team breaking 31 minutes each at the first meet. After the first meet the team was 30 seconds off from qualifying for Nationals. Over the course of the next two months the Team filed their times down, qualifying for the National race in early November. The men's team finished 4th at Nationals and the ladies team finished 5th. Staci Dole shared, "Everyone put so much work into the season, and by the 3rd meet everyone was able to PR. The highlight for me was nationals trip because that was where we had a lot of bonding time and the girls finished 5th."

Ethan Pope pushes ahead of the pack.

1. Staci Dole perseveres until the end.
2. Ethan Pope receives recognition as an All American.
3. Lindsay Bevan, Kaylan Fagley, and Hannah Langely take off at the start of a race.
4. Logan Possom and Ethan Pope...teammates and friends.
5. The men's team huddles together to pray before their race.
6. Josh McCrickard finishes strong.

Women's Basketball

"Cookson Hills was my highlight because you not only play ball, but you have the opportunity to impact kids and maybe instill a hope that they might have a better future than they thought." Sarah Wenger

This year the MCC women captured the Midwest Christian College Conference Tournament. Four Lady Crusaders, Sarah Wenger, Leah Barger, Kori Zarzutzki and Libby Witte, scored in double figures. MCC defeated Central Christian College of the Bible 89 to 60 to win the tournament championship. Sarah Wenger, Libby Witte, and Brittany Shaklee were all named 1st Team All-Conference. Leah Barger was a second team selection. They continued on to win their second straight NCCAAII Central Region Championship by defeating Central Christian College of the Bible, 44-37.

At the NCCAA Division II Women's Basketball Banquet several members of the team were honored. Libby Witte was selected as a 1st Team All-American. Witte led MCC in scoring at 14.5 points and 11.4 rebounds. Sarah Wenger was recognized as a 2nd Team All-American. Wenger averaged 8.7 points and 3.7 assists. Leah Barger, Stacie Dole, Rebecca Hawthorne, Brittany Shaklee, Sarah Wenger and Kori Zarzutzki were all named Scholar-Athletes by the NCCAA. With six individuals recognized, MCC had the most representation of any school in the country.

Sarah Wenger flies to the basket.

1. Me'Shelle Parker lays up an easy basket against Ozark.
2. Kendall Reynolds balances on one foot and still gets the shot off.
3. Libby Witte shows how flexible basketball players need to be.
4. Leah Barger takes the jump shot.
5. The defense poses no problem for Leah Barger.
6. Rebecca Hawthorne charges past for an easy layup.

Front Row: Staci Dole, Sarah Wenger, Me'Shelle Parker, Mackenzie Matavosky, Julia Nuebert, Manager Dee Dee Guthrie.

Men's Basketball

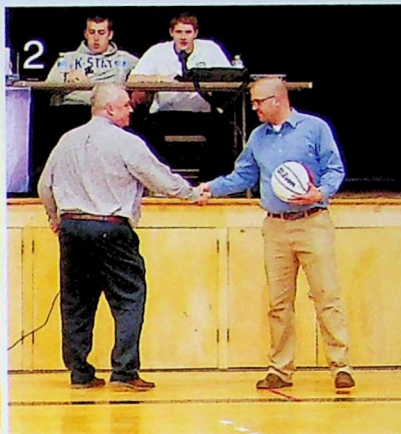

Sage Ruis makes another easy layup.

The Men's Basketball team won the Conference Championship with a victory over Faith Baptist Bible College. Sage Ruis was named the MVP of the Conference, Lonnie Penner was selected 1st Team All-Conference, and Jack Mitchell was named 2nd Team All-Conference. The Crusaders finished the season 22-9. The last game in uniform for five seniors: Josh Camacho, Matt Doerksen, Alex Hammack, Jack Mitchell and Lonnie Penner was bittersweet. During their careers they were very successful, winning at least a share of four straight regular season Midwest Christian College Conference championships and winning the MCCC tournament this year. These young men will be missed by the program next year. Two individuals from the MCC men's basketball received honors from the NCCAA Men's Basketball Division II. Sage Ruis was named as a 2nd Team All-American. Lonnie Penner was recognized as an Honorable Mention All-American. Penner was second on the team in scoring at 12.8 points and second in rebounding at 5.4 boards per game. Bryce Birtell, Josh Camacho, Jack Mitchell and Penner were all recognized as Scholar-Athletes.

Alex Hammack makes the break away to the basket.

1. Bryce Birtell goes up strong against his Ozark defender.
2. Coach Shawn Condra is honored for his 400th win in his 20th season at MCC.
3. Josh Camacho races ahead of the Hillsdale defense to make a sweet layup.
4. Will Chisam goes up strong to grab the rebound.
5. Jack Mitchell forces his way to the hoop despite his Calvary opponent.
6. Lonnie Penner for another three.

Baseball

"It makes no sense why we continue to step onto the field day after day, but we do. That's baseball."
Cody Jones

Over the years, the MCC Baseball Team has experienced their fair share of trials. Improving twice as much from last season, the team made it all the way to Regionals in Oklahoma this year. These men worked each and every day to improve and grow. They stuck through each challenge and refused to give up, even on the most difficult of days. They ranged from playing in the snow, to playing in weather that burns you after being out for only 5 minutes. The dedication and hard work of these baseball players is obvious to anyone who has experienced this season with them. Not only are these players a team on the field, but their friendships go much deeper than baseball. Even outside of practice and games, they can always be found together. The bonds they have made do not end at the close of the season.

Catcher TJ Marler throws the ball to make a play at second base.

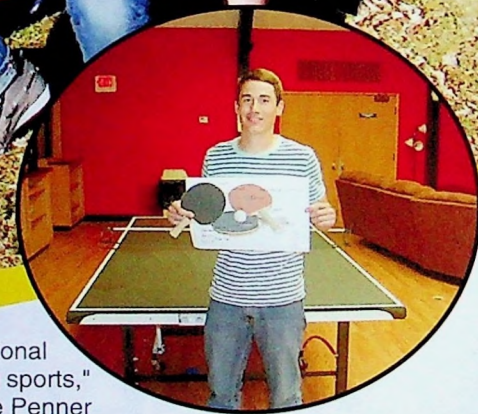

1. Ben Rankin throws a wicked curve to Alex Campbell, striking out the batter at Regionals in Oklahoma.
2. Cody Jones races to 2nd base to beat out the player attempting to steal. Pitcher Blake Ware was too fast for the other team and the runner was tagged out!
3. A drastic event took place at the Sterling game for the MCC Baseball team. Short stop, Kel Ebert, dislocated and broke his ankle sliding into 3rd base. After his surgery, the team stopped by to pray with him and to wish him a quick healing.
4. Alex Campbell knocks a ground ball to third, advancing the runner on first.
5. Lane Miller gives it all that he's got to strike out the hitter.
6. Aaron Lassley, 1st baseman, pushed through multiple injuries throughout the season, but never worked any less to do what had to be done on and off the field.

Intramurals

"Just because there is no roster, referees, or national championship doesn't mean that we aren't playing sports," says Lonnie Penner

College Student Life just would not be the same without intramurals. Ultimate Frisbee, Flag Football, Basketball, and Ping-Pong are all played into the late hours of the night. You do not necessarily have to be a good athlete to play intramurals, but be careful because these games can be even more intense than regular season games. Everyone give 110% because they are playing for bragging rights and a intramural champion t-shirt. Sometimes they are goofy, and funny, but sometimes they are very serious about what they do. These players are true competitors as they play through crazy timing and switching schedules. All of the players and spectators at intramural events are there because they simply love the game and want to play.

Flag football winners: Will Chisam, Jobie Debrick, Wade Davis, Andy Schmitz, Nick Alspaw, and Ben Rankin.

1. Blake Ware attempts to break through the defense of the Foxes during flag football.
2. Adam Schmitz passes through the Plain White V's, Brooks Boyce, to score!
3. Women's Basketball Intramural Champions are: Kaitlyn Black, Libby Witte, Amy Tippin, Sarah Wenger, and Carrie Pilkington.
4. Volleyball Intramural Champions are: Will Chisam, Paige Mortensen, Kylie Rupe, Ireland Spence, and Lonnie Penner.
5. Kylie Rupe serves an ace to advance her team to the win!
6. Men's Basketball Champions are: Lane Miller, Devin Ruis, Norman Alexander, Ka'Sean Park, Blake Ware, and Matt Doerksen.

Graduation

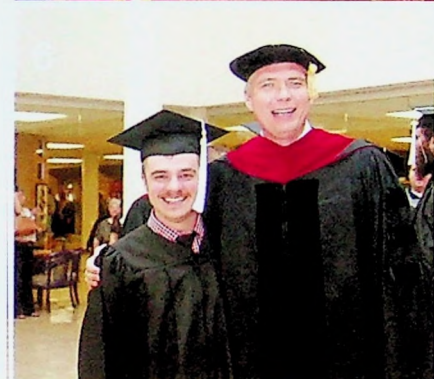

"Graduation was a strange moment of the past, present, and future all coming together." Alan Hamer

For thirty-eight people and their families, this Saturday in May was very welcomed. These students spent countless hours in classes, reading textbooks, writing paper, taking tests, and many of them working jobs at the same time. 2013 graduate Alan Hamer shared, 'We gather and look back at how through moments of bliss and hardship, relaxation and growth we became friends. And then there we stood, friends, colleagues, brothers and sisters, to celebrate our accomplishment individually and as a group. And as the celebration comes to an end we look forward toward our new goals, adventures, and dreams.' The graduates and guests were all honored to hear Senator Garrett Love address the graduates.

Will Eickman and Alan Hamer pause for prayer at the Alumni lunch.

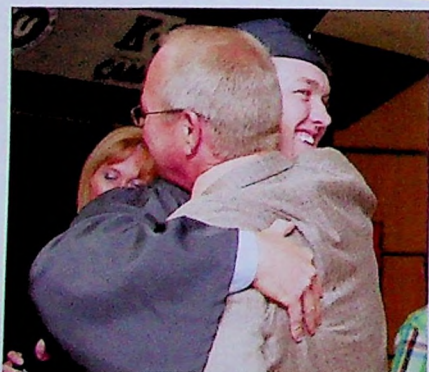

1. Student Body President Ian Christensen reads scripture to begin the Graduation ceremony.
2. Bryce Jablonski receives his diploma and a hug.
3. Genae Denver presents Teka Wilson with her membership to the Alumni Association.
4. Leah Scanlan, Marisa Love, Trey Shelton, and Kaylan Fagley are excited to enter the ceremony.
5. LEAD graduate Jennifer Ferguson receives her diploma.
6. Andrew Nicoll and Dr. Brian Medaris celebrate at the Graduation reception.

Friends and fellow Alumni...Zane Kaehr, Sam Field, and Ethan Hutchcraft.

Graduation

Bryce Jablonski and Jack Mitchell share a moment with President Kevin Ingram.

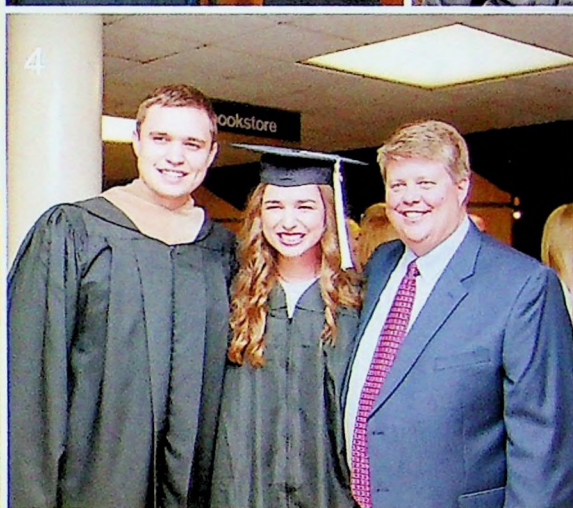

Trey Shelton gets a hug from his dad.

Jordan Shelton, Kevin Gieswein, and Christian Hallberg celebrate.

Rusty Thornley presents Cross-Cultural Ministry major Jordan Shelton with the leather necklace and cross pendant that he gives to all Cross-Cultural graduates.

1. Teka Wilson beams as she receives her well earned diploma.
2. Brody Bliss congratulates LEAD Graduate Loel Clark.
3. Dorothy Bradford and Jennifer Ferguson celebrate their accomplishments.
4. Commencement speaker State Senator Garrett Love proudly poses with graduate and sister Marisa Love and President Ingram.
5. James Sovick receives numerous awards.
6. Adam Herbert is super excited to graduate.

Graduate Jack Mitchell celebrates with his wife Maeghan Mitchell and his family.
